

This electronic meter has two separate display registers. Each register will display information for approximately six seconds. The first register is a segment test register to show that all meter segments are working. The second register shows the power delivered to your home and displays the current reading in kilowatt hour consumption.

The test register displays eights in this formation: 88:88:88. This sequence shows that the meter is working correctly.

The second register shows the current reading of your meter. Please record all five digits when entering a meter reading online or on a self-read card. Submit your meter read online at www.saskatoon.ca or by phone: (306) 975 2400 or 1 800 667 9944.
